VOL. 102-NO. 36 Davis: Village must grow so right development occurs

Antioch's Economic Development Dir. Don Davis answers the growing group of residents concerned about annexations by saying, "The village is forced to grow to ensure that the right type of development occurs. We want to be the best city, not the biggest."

In essence, he claims that planned organized growth now will preclude heavier, haphazard growth later, and it's better to grow with Antioch than another municipality.

An organization called the Antioch Twp. Assn., spearheaded by Frank Sullivan, a township resident, has been formed with aims to stop the village from annexing more and more of the unincorporated township.

The proposed annexation of the running east of the village to Deep Lake Rd. and south to Grass Lake Rd. is of particular concern to the anti-annexation group.

Davis says that "the village has expressed an interest in annexing to the east - the village is afraid of other villages annexing area to the east of Antioch," explaining the focus on that particular area since most areas west of the village are already built up.

Davis says, "The Village of Antioch does not control the growth and development around the village -- it is controlled by different groups and locational factors outside of the village's influence."

He continues, "Landowners are entitled to develop their own property-- they also have the right to develop annex them or in the county. The Village of Antioch must keep its development standards in reason or the landowner will choose another village or Lake County."

Davis lists the reasons why "Antioch is in the best position to ensure the highest quality and lowest density development of the area to the east: Antioch's proximity and level of services for proper planning; providing high level of services at low tax rates due to Antioch's commercial tax base; long time center of activity in area.

by GLORIA DAVIS

A 20-year-old man, Edmund Smith from Pine Grove, Ill., temporarily residing in Antioch at the Midlakes Motel with his girlfriend Jacalyn Dombrowski, 18, have been charged for check forgery practices and battery

On Monday, at 3:20 p.m., Smith entered the grocery store and attempted to cash a check. In two previous visits, Smith had cashed checks amounting to $900 written by the girlfriend. The checks bounced, being written on closed

Daniel Atkins, store manager, asked Smith to come into his office, when he was confronted with the bad checks he bolted, knocking down two women employees, Patricia Antonelli, assistant manager and checker Evelyn

Both have complained about neck and Atkins caught up with Smith outside the store and a scuffle ensued. Antioch Police Lt. Tom Fisher, Sgt. Charles Watkins and Officer James Hession arrived on the scene and subdued Smith, arresting him.

Dombrowski turned herself into police at 6:30 p.m. that night. Both are

Smith, who is on intensive probation for residential burglary, is being held on $100,000 bond, charged with three counts of battery and three counts of Dombrowski is being held on $10,000 bond, charged with three counts of forgery.

See Miller returning

According to Antioch Mayor Ray Toft, Chief Chuck Miller, who has been on sick leave since February, is expected to get a final OK to return to work from his doctor at St. Lukes in Milwaukee on Wednesday.

"He's looking super and I think he'll be back to work right after Labor Day,"

Meanwhile, Lt. Tom Fisher, who has been running the police department under Mayor Toft's auspices during Miller's absence, is due to take sick leave on Sept. 13 to go into the hospital for treatment of an injury incured during a scuffle at the firemen's dance last year.

Crime Stoppers and the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. are seeking information relating to the death investigation of Charles Marshall.

On the Morning of Friday, July 29 the body of Charles Marshall was discovered in the yard at his residence located in Round Lake. He was last seen alive at his place of employment being the Abbey Resort located in Fontana, Wis. around midnight, Thursday, July 28.

Marshall's vehicle described as a black over red 1972 Chevrolet Blazer was missing and later recovered in northwestern Racine County, Wis.

Anyone having information about the death of Marshall is urged to contact Crime Stoppers at (312)662-222, or the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. at (312)360-6300. Information could result in a cash reward of $1,000.

Teachers may strike

LAKE VILLA—Eighty-eight teachers have voted to go on strike Wednesday, Sept. 14, if there is no contract following the third session with a federal mediator. Teachers are asking for a 10 percent increase, nine of it in the form of a wage hike. The board of education is offering a seven percent pay hike plus a $250 increase for health insurance coverage, for a total of eight percent. Teachers in the Lake Villa grade school system now earn an average of $26,000 annually.

New Lindenhurst News

News, the 14th masthead in the Lakeland newspaper group, will debut next week. "With the new newspaper we recognize a progressive, growing community that has reached the prominence and stature to have a newspaper of its own," Publisher William Schroeder said. Lindenhurst has an estimated 7,500 residents, which compromise almost one-half of the Lake Villa Twp. population. "I'm absolutely delighted," Mayor Robert Ratch said. "We welcome the paper with open arms."

Trustee retires

GRANT TWP.--Long-time Grant Twp. Trustee Leo Steffen, 85, has announced his retirement from that position after 27 years of service. Steffen served as Republican precinct committeeman and was president of the Grant Twp. Republican Club in 1960. He was appointed trustee of the Grant Twp. Fire Protection Dist. in 1974 and served 14 years.

Asbestos removed asbestos is by no means an easy process, as Dist. 75 schools found out this summer, but they managed to keep on schedule and get the work done in a three-month period. The asbestos removal at the four elementary schools, dealing mostly with floor tiles, started in June.

Bears beat auction

FOX LAKE—The Fox Lake Chamber of Commerce changed the date of a beneift auction this week after deciding that it was foolish to compete against a Chicago Bears-Green Bay Packers game for fans. The date of the auction, proceeds of which will go to the Chamber and the Community Center was changed from Sept. 25 to Oct. 23. The Bears play San Francisco on Monday night that week.

Best growth bet

ANTIOCH - Antioch's Economic Development Dir. Dan Davis tells residents concerned about the planned annexation of properties to the east by the village that Antioch's location demands growth and it is better to grow now in an organized quality way instead of being forced to grow later haphazardly. Davis cites the high quality of housing and commerciality in Antioch as making annexation to the village desirable. He also says that Antioch has set rules for developers to pay fees to schools and parks and has required fees for sewage, etc. for new residents which preclude existing residents paying for new development.

Award well contract

LAKE ZURICH—Wight Consutling Engineers of Barrington has been tentatively awarded a $39,000 contract for design and engineering of well No. 10. Work will begin immediately followed by drilling and full operation by next summer. The new well is needed to accomodate the growing population, now estimated at 13,500, and to maintain adequate pressure throughout the village.

Receives grant

NORTH CHICAGO—North Chicago Dist. 64 has won a $100,000 grant from the state to assist its pre-school program. The district offers pre-school for three-to-five year olds. Supt. Dr. Charles Thomas said the grant will help the district better prepare youngsters for kindergarten.

Clean asbestos report

GRAYSLAKE ---While high school and elementary districts are spending thousands to rid their school of asbestos, Grayslake Community High School has received a clean report. Supt. Griff Powell told the board of education at its August meeting that only one area of the school - the boiler room- contains significant amounts of asbestos. The school board will set up a public hearing to discuss the asbestos report Sept. 14 or 15.

Mills meeting

CORNEE --- The Gurnee Plan Commission will consider plans for the super regional discount mall known as Gurnee Mills at a Sept. 7 meeting. Plan commission members conducted a second hearing on the proposed mall by Western Development Corp. Both school districts, Warren Twp. High School and Woodland Dist. 50 lent their support to the project while about 80 future neighbors of the mall expressed opposition.

Spending cuts set

MUNDELEIN---The board of education of Mundelein Dist. 120 faces a deficit of about $530,000 in its education fund, but through reduced spending of about $100,000 each year over the next five years, Supt. Wayne Bottoni said he hopes to overcome the deficit without increasing taxes.

Big impact the Waukegan Savanna property could have a big impact on Gurnee Dist. 56, according to Supt. Wayne Schurter. "It could have a major impact on enrollment," he said at a board meeting. The property in question, some 715 acres, has been partially annexed on the west side of Yorkhouse Rd. by Wadsworth and by Waukegan. Also, the Lake County Forest Preserve has voted to acquire the land, meaning the issue should end up in court, Schurter said.

Review industrial park

this week by the Public Works and Zoning Committee reviewed a preannexation and zoning agreement for the 150-acre Hallberg and Davis farms on Bonner Rd. east of Old Ryan Road. The Hydra Corp. of Wauconda want to annex the land for an industrial park. The developer was fined $2,500 this summer for the wholesale cutting of large stands of trees on the property in clearing the land.

Taxpayer rebellion

coom-only at village board and park district board meetings these days. Residents are protesting an average tax increase of $100 per year for a $100,000 assessed home. Depending upon where they live in the village, taxes have sometimes increased $2,000 and mortage payments risen $50 to $100 per month. Village officials say part of this increase is due to adjustable rate mortgages of many homeowners.

Holiday Closing

The newspaper office will be closed Monday, Sept. 5, in observance of the Labor Day holiday. The holiday closing will not effect regular deadlines—5 p.m. Tuesday for display advertising; 10 a.m. Wednesday for late news and classified. Have an enjoyable and safe holiday.

"Once again the wheels are turning for the Antioch American Cancer Society Annual Bike-A-Thon sponsored by the Antioch Jaycees and Antioch Fire Dept., to be held Sept. 18, according to the Chairman Chuck Bishoff. "The response has been excellent with people being seen around town polishing their bikes, inflating their tires and eager to go!"

Antioch's route seven miles long, will be the same this year as last year. It will start at the Anitoch Fire Station on Orchard St.

The Bike-A-Thon starts at 10 a.m. and riders must begin only from the first checkpoint at the Fire Station. There will also be two water stops on the route. Felters, Morely targets for subdivision survey Wardens will be canvassing door-todoor in the Felters and Morley subdivisions of Antioch Twp. during the week of Sept. 5.

Residents will be asked to fill out a survey form which will provide feedback on the quality of animal control services and assist with educational efforts regarding rabies control. The survey form will be given to non-pet owners as well as pet owners.

The Lake County Healt Dept. is emphasizing community involvement, education regarding local ordinances, and promoting information on rabies

The Lake County Animal/Rabies Control Ordinance requires that all dogs and cats have attached to their collar a Lake County Rabies tag as proof of their vaccination status. The tags are available from the health department and certain municipalities upon presentation of the vaccination certificate (obtained from the Lake County Health Dept. Animal veterinarian) and the required fee. Pets must be registered within 21 days of vaccination.

The purpose of the tags is to provide proof of vaccination if the animal bites or if the animal, itself, is bitten by a rabid animal. The tag is also useful in tracing ownership if the pet is lost.

The threat of animal rabies is controlled through rabies immunizations of pets. Rabies is a virus that attacks the nervous system. Once symptoms appear, the disease is almost always Owners are also reminded that the Lake County ordinance requires that dogs, cats or other animals must be controlled in a manner to prevent their running at large, secured by a leash or lead or confined by a fence or other means on the owner's property.

For additional information on rabies registration tags and rabies or to report an animal bite, call the Lake County Health Dept. Rabies Control program at (312)360-6424 or (312)526-5336.

Hausman takes honors at rose competitions

Tom Hausman of Antioch is known for his dramatic talents at Wilmot High, PM&L Theatre, and at Andre's Steakhouse. He is also one of the area's premiere gardeners. This summer, Hausman won the best rose in a bowl competition at the Northern Chicagoland Rose Show in June. In June he also won four rose arranging championships at the Gateway Rose Show in Racine.

The winners were: The Royalty, Princess, Duchess and Artist's awards. He also was awarded the gold and silver certificates for arrangements. He also won the best grandiflora spray award at the same show.

At the Lake County Fair in July, Hausman swept four floriculture championships-best rose, best dahlia, best potted plant, and best amateur arrangement. And, at the Men's Garden Club of Waukegan Show in August, Hausman won best arrangement and best potted plant.

Hausman has one more show to attend before the season ends-the Northeastern Illinois Rose Society Show to be held at the Belvidere Mall in Waukegan on Sunday, Sept. 4. Lakeland Newspapers

Weather cools off marina business

As the traditional "last weekend of summer" begins, marina owners in the Chain O' Lakes area are looking back on a summer during which business wasn't as hot as the weather.

The reason? The weather. "It was too hot," said Ken Inges, owner of the Mutiny Boat Club, 27500 W. Grass Lake Rd., Antioch.

"When it was real hot. . . It was real slow," said Cheryl Crutchfield, owner of Inland Harbor Marina, 38816 Bway Ave., Antioch. The hot, dry weather, however, contributed to low water levels, which contributed to damaged lower ends on more motors than usual. So what some businesses lost in gas and other sales, they picked up in repair work. "We were busy mechanically," said Fritz Schnoor, owner of Chain O' Lakes Marina and Ships Store, Rte. 59, Fox Lake, "but otherwise not."

Business in general, he said, was "not too good because of the hot weather." After July 4, especially, business

"dropped off there a little." Schnoor said he could empathize with the public. "I wouldn't like to go out boating in that hot weather," he said.

Inges said of his year at Mutiny Boat Club "I don't think it was a very good, one."

Boat slip rental level was "fine," he said, but recreational vehicle rental was slow. "I didn't get the kind of play I normally get.

"The heat had a real impact on people. I probably could say I had better summers."

Crutchfield, at Inland Harbor, took a positive outlook on the year.

"Basically it was a good year. Wher than that it was pretty good," she said.

Business was "better this year than last year. There seemed to be more boats out this year. Even the water being so low didn't seem to stop them" - unless they busted up their props. Crutchfield, too, reported an increase in service work.

Philmont Scount Ranch consists of 215 square miles of rugged mountain wilderness. The elevation ranges from 6,500 feet to 12,441 feet, and includes many rugged mountain peaks and valleys. Philmont is rich in tradition and history. The crew was entertained at several evening campfires, put on by the camp staff, with stories and songs about interesting people and events that make up the recorded history of the land The crew consisted of eight, people-five Scouts and three adult advisors. Scouts included crew leader and Eagle Scout Brian Clark, Eagle Scout Stephen Goetzelman, Eagle Scout David Weston, Life Scout Matt Aschbacher and Star Scout Brian Paschke. The adult advisors were Tom Aschbacher, William Goetzelman and Harold Clark. The itinerary included 11 days and 10 nights on the trail. The group carried all their personal gear and crew gear over the 50-plus miles. The average pack weight carried by the crew was 43 pounds.

The major highlights of the trip included a stay at the Tent City base camp, elevation 6,621. From the base camp, the group hiked over the top to Mt. Phillips, at 11,711 feet the third highest mountain in New Mexico.

Then it was on to Beaubien Ranch and Uracca Mesa. After descending to a meadow located at 7,200 feet, the group ascended the 9,003 feet.

After picture taking, the group worked its way back down to Tent City. On other days, the group stopped at staff camps for programs that included gold panning, a trip through Cypher's Gold Mine, blacksmithing, black powder rifle shooting, pole climbing, hand-making railroad ties, horseback riding and a chuckwagon dinner. In addition, the group performed a three-hour conservation project, which involved work on a new trail that will be much safer and designed to prevent erosion of the land.

The group's wildlife record showed that 35 mule deer, six wild turkeys, two eagles, one lizard and one mink were sighted. On the trip out to the ranch, there were many antelope grazing and resting in the fields. There was much evidence of bears, but fortunately none came into the camps. The ranch has 14

This was true in Lake Villa served by the Soo Line and many other communties seved by this railroad, the Chicago and North Western, Wisconsin Central and Burlington Northern railroads. Metra is not affected because it is not licensed as a common freight carrier. The law was put into effect as a safety measure in hopes of stopping the rising number of train-car accidents and resulting fatalities.

"It was horrible," she said of train whistles all hours of the night. "I am awakened at least once a night. It is bad enough in the afternoon, but at night when you are trying to sleep it is worst of all.' She said this could have an adverse effect on someone trying to sell their property

Hearings this month by the Illinois Commerce Comm. will decide about trains and their whistles. The next one will be Tuesday, Sept. 6, in the commission offices on Randolph Street in downtown Chicago. Meanwhile, those with complaints about train whistles can call the commission offices in Chicago at (312) 917-2850.

Antioch's location, between the growing Chicago and Milwaukee metroplitan areas means "we definitely see growth," says Davis.

"If we do not grow now, demand will build to a point where a new regional sewage treatment plant will be feasible and development will be denser.

Davis describes Antioch as having high quality housing and commercial growth, allowing it to be restrictive and require higher standards than an area in decline can.

In listing the village's attempts at keeping these high standards, Davis goes into a recent building code implemented by the village requiring new commercial and multi-family buildings to be brick to at least the top of the first story. He adds the strong encouragement the village is giving to Planned Unit Developments (legally more restrictions can be placed on PUD developments than on others) and plans for requiring landscaping for all parking lots. Sullivan and his people are concerned about who is going to pay for all this planned growth, the schools, utilities,

Davis says, "There is concern about etc. taxes going up as new development occurs.," adding he knows of no study showing the effect of development on taxes.

He claims that "a lot depends on the land use and the amount of new taxes developments generate,"

He says, "The village is trying to plan for development which will ease the tax burden of its citizens, not raise it."

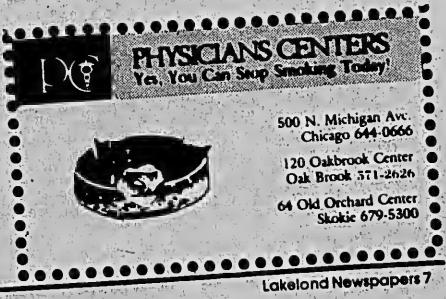

To those residents worried about paying higher fees as new residents move in he says, "The village does have development fees in place so existing residents don't pay for the impact of new development," listing fees paid by developers to schools and parks based on sewer lines; the village's charge of $200 per population equivalent for increased demand on the sewer plant and the fact that new residents pay many. other taxes and user fees.

PUBLIC NOTICE NOTICE OF FILING

NORTHERN ILLINOIS GAS COMPANY hereby gives notice to the public that it has filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission on August 22, 1988, a restructuring of its sales rates and changes in and additions to its rates for transportation service. The proposed rates in total would not result in increased revenues to the Company. Charges to customers served under certain rate schedules, including Rate 1, Residential Gas Service, would generally be increased; customers served under other rate schedules would generally experience rate reductions. The filing also contains proposed rate changes which would: (a) increase charges related to gas cost recovery for some customers and decrease such charges for others; and (b) establish charges for backup service for gas transportation customers.

Further information with respect thereto. may be obtained either directly from this Company or by addressing the Chief Clerk of the Illinois Commerce Commission at Springfield, Illinois 62706.

Lily Lake residents will pay tax increase

Residents living in the Lily Lake area will be paying $1 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, rather than the 75 cents they paid last year since the lake protection and rehabilitation Dist. met last week.

It is hoped that the additional 25 cents per $1,000 of assessed vaulation will raise approximately $16,000 towards the $23,000 budget and the repayment of the loan for the lake dredging done 10 years ago.

The additional funds are needed since the lake assessments are no longer in effect. Other things brought up at the lake district meeting included complaints about people throwing garbage into the lake. Most of the complaints had to do with behaviour on the beach which includes loud partying, drinking, vulgar language and not following lake behavior rules.

With the lake coming under the state's jurisdiction, the former Wheatland Twp. Board Chairman Richard Schipppers said, that "the lake district was created to payoff the dredging debt, complaints being made here tonight come unde rthe jurisdiction of the town board."

When asked if a higher tax would be required to pay for protection, would they be willing to pay it, most of those present agreed to the higher tax rate.

Wheatland Town Chairman Francis Kerkman is planning to bring these problems in front of the Wisconsin Dept. of Natural Rescources.

Hospital will host reunion for surviving cancer patients Roommates who have vives cancer for three Jermakowicz and his

On Sept. 16, cancer patients from around the country will return to American International Hospital where many first learned they had the disease. Not to be treated for cancer, but to "Celebrate Life."

Since 1976, more than 150 patients who were treated for cancer at American International Hospital in Zion, have survived cancer for three years or more. Sixty patients have survived five years or more, a bench mark when a cancer patient is considered cured.

Cancer patients and their families from as far away as Oregon, New York and Arizona have been invited to return to American International Hospital to celebrate life and enjoy an oldfamily fashioned not seen each other since their time of treatment will reunite. Hospital personnel, including physicians, nurses and technologists, will reunite with their former patients. Former patients will share their experiences with cancer patients presently receiving treatment.

The reunion will begin at 11 a.m. in the park directly across from the hospital. Each patient attending the reunion will plant a spring flower bulb in the park's ground.

The ceremony will symbolize every cancer. patient's quest for new hope and new life represented by the growth and blossoming of the spring flower through the winter snow. From this time forward, the rite will be performed by every patient who sur-years or more.

The new flower bed will provide a source of inspiration for cancer patients next spring, and every spring, when they look out of the picture window from their rooms. Every blue, red or yellow bloom will represent one patient who has survived cancer.

Following the flowerplanting ceremony, an outdoor family get together for patients, featuring picnic cuisine which can help prevent cancer, will begin at noon. Picnic tables arranged in one long line, covered with redcheckered cloths will fill the park. A volleyball game and other recreational activities will start after lunch.

Among the patients planning to attend the reunion are Chester tioch. "Having cancer does not mean that you can't get better," says Chester, a 62-year-old former American International Hospital February 1987.

"Millions of people have been successfully treated for cancer and they live full, vigorous, and exciting lives," says Crystal Beeman, a hospital employee who organized the reunion. "We want our former and present patients to show everyone just how well they are doing. We want everyone in this country to know that cancer can be overcome. What better way to show that than to ask our patients to get together for a family weekend reunion?"

Stormwater management plan underway; consultants selected

Stormwater management planning is underway in Lake County. The Lake County Stormwater Management Planning Committee (SMPC), comprised of six municipal mayors and six county board members, recently approved the selection of two consultants to complete Part 1 of the Lake County Stormwater Management Plan. They are URS of Englewood, Colorado and HDR of Chicago.

When completed late next spring, this phase of the overall stormwater identify the most effective institutional and financial arrangements for an ongoing, permanent stormwater management program. Technical data will be availale to back up decisions on financing and plan implementation which will need to be made next year.

Additional work being undertaken this year includes the preparation of an inventory of local stormwater control facilities, a review of local policies and procedures, a coun-management ordinance, and a technical reference manual.

Over the next several weeks, consultants and staff will visit a number of municipalities and involved agencies to pinpoint area problems and potential solutions to local drainage problems. In advance of these interviews all communities in Lake County are being asked to submit to SMPC any ordinances or local policy. drainage documents in current

Although the summer, has been extremely dry, committee members are aware of the unpredictability of the weather and are working as quickly as possible to stay ahead of future problems.

HIGH COST OF HIGH HEELS

The price of wearing high heels may in some cases go beyond the cost of the shoes.

Discomfort while wearing the shoes is a small part of that cost. Aching feet get quick relief when the shoes are removed, but the hidden costs may keep building.

Excessive wearing of high heels could lead to serious foot problems. Walking with elevated heels forces the balls of the feet and the toes to take a severe pounding. Pointed-toe shoe design worsens the punishment.

Women who frequently wear high heels risk more than calluses and ingrown toenails-in time, some may suffer bone or joint deformities.

A checkup by a podiatrist is in order for longtime wearers of high heels.

Price of growth

Due to a combination of economic and human factors, real estate taxes have gone through the roof in Lindenhurst. Some tax bills have zoomed from around $2,500 to more than $4,000. More than a few homeowners are confronted with increased mortgage payments of $50 to $200 per month, some due to the tax situations, others because of adjustable rate mortages. A growing number of new residents fear that they will not be able to meet the financial obligations of home ownership.

The economic reasons for this are bound up in a tangle of circumstances involving a super-heated economy, rapidly escalating home values, a higher-than-expected tax impact of a new park district and a maze of varying tax rates created by eight different school districts serving a single com-

young, rapidly-growing village with a minimal commercial tax base, overstated home ownership expectations, and hip-shooting salesmanship of builders and real estate brokers-and what results are the ingredients for a grand mess. The bottom line of the Lindenhurst tax explosion is that attacking the human problem, which is the most hurtful way to go, might be the only way to go. In order for some residents to keep their homes, belt-tightening and sacrifice may be necessary. The cost of living in Lindenhurst has apparently taken a big jump, so priorities have to be revised. Builders and brokers need to revise costs so realistic pictures can be painted for prospective buyers. This is necessary because, as sure as there is a Lindenhurst, the various taxing bodies aren't going to reduce rates.

There is a price for growing pains, both for upscale home-buyers and a community that is rapidly becoming an affluent suburb.

Zealous phone robots leave columnist cold, disenchanted

by BILL SCHROEDER

Yuppies, tcenagers and live-in couples have invaded with a vengeance a part of the world formerly exclusive to self-employed tradesmen and oneperson offices: the phone answering device.

Wallpaper hangers and insurance sales agents use phone answering machines for what they were intended-business purposes. Call a plumber who isn't home or an absent insurer and you get a straight answer along the lines of "I'm not here, but your call is important. Leave a message and I'll call back as soon as possible." Not so with the yuppies, teens and assorted others who have discovered the phone answering device can be an extension of their social swirl, an adjunct of their lifestyle or an outlet for creative juices. Call a baby-boomer or a post-B.B. and you're likely to get chit chat with a background of jungle sounds, animal grunts, air traffic or automobile noise. Couples opt for party background, muffled piano bar conversation or rolling surf, anything to status. Creativity on the answering joggers making a phone call for help. depict their lively "with it" social machine can be disconcerting. Try dialing someone and get a response resembling a zoo or a barnyard. I rcturned the call of a college student applying for summer work and found myself talking to a French maitre d' Instead of discussing a job, I made reservations for dinner. Before entering the date on my calendar, I realized I was dealing with a kid having some fun. So much for communications enhancement by remote clectronic answering.

I've gotten over a long spell of selfconsciousness in dealing with folks in scrvice business who let robots answer their phone. Now I can blurt out my name and number when I'm looking for a house painting quote or letting the furnacc repairman know the house is getting cold.

But when someone shouts over the noise of jet engines or I hear a response amid clarking iron from a body building spa, I just hang up. The paint can keep peeling, or I'll go over to the neighbors to get warm, but I won't deal with imitations of the television weatherman or phony out-of-breath

Reining in growth

Village trustees of Lake Zurich and Dist. Mgr. John S. Maxon of Commonwealth Edison Co. did a good deal of finger pointing in an attempt to determine who was at fault for a serious brownout suffered by the village during the recent heat wave.

It's beside the point that Com Ed delivered more electricity on Aug. 17, 1988, than any other day in its 101-year history or that consumer groups said this level of demand would not occur until well after the turn of the century. The fact is that Com Ed couldn't deliver when the need presented itself, leaving a large part of the village in a potentially dangerous position.

Com Ed shouldn't shoulder the entire blame, though, not in a community where village officials are shoveling out building permits as fast as they can, even in the face of inadequate public utilities. It's also beside the point that

Lake Zurich is a desirable place to live, and that there are great pressures for growth and development resulting in a disparity between growth and public services. The fact is that both Lake Zurich trustees and Com Ed officials haven't been doing their homework to match supply with demand. Whatever happened to planning for the future? Maxson says that a new substation is planned that will meet any power loads that may develop for the future in Lake Zurich. All well and good. In the meantime, we think it makes sense for village officials to take that information into consideration. It also wouldn't hurt to consider whether sewer and water facilities are adequate or whether transportation and telephone needs can be met, for example. If it's necessary to rein in the building permits, sobeit.

by Joseph Soulak

Robert Neal, the man who is Mr. Everything in Lake County, is also the most elusive man around. "Where and how do you get in touch with this man?" eonstituents have ealled to ask. "Even in an cleetion year he ean't be found." Taking this for what it's worth; ealls were made—dozens of them—to his Dist.3 supervisor office in Newport Twp. in Wadsworth, the County Board where he is a member, the Forest Preserve where he is a member, the Republican Central Committee he heads and his Ablc Electronies Inc. office in Waukegan. At each place he was said to be "not in," "will return tomorrow" or "I'll leave a message."

If there really is a Robert Neal, will he please stand up?

Democrats are on the horns of a dilemma in the 60th Dist. This is where state Rep. William Peterson (R-Prairie View) will have his first opposition in eight years. Ironically, it will come from a member of his own party.

Robin Weiss, a Buffalo Grove Republican, is the Democratic candidate in the Tuesday, Nov. 8 election.

Why? How?

All it took was one vote, just one-a write-in at that-in the March Democratic primary. Since there was no Democratic canidate on the ballot, that vote was enough to ensure Weiss as the party's candidate. He is more than willing. He believes the GOP would not have backed him and he wants to give voters a choice. Weiss is president of his own company, which markets consumer products such as cleaning solutions. He admits to writing in his name in other elections.

The district includes Long Grove, Deerfield, Lincolnshire and portions of Buffalo Grove, Palantine, Lake Zurich and Barrington. The Democrats don't know if they can win with Weiss.

What happens in one part of Lake County like Antioch, Fox Lake or Wauconda affects what happens in another area like Deerfield, Highland Park and Lake Forest, says Millicent Berliant, eandldate for the Lake County Board in Dist. 1. That is the townships of Deerfield, West Deerfield and parts of Shields and Vernon where lots of building growth has and is taking place.

"It is not only the development in this district that eauses over-erowded highways and traffie congestion," Berliant says, "but development elsewhere in the county that leads to environmental problems in the North Shore communities." She points to a study by George Butler and Associates for the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. in which respondents said the economy and job situation will get better in the next 10 years. But they feel other things will get worse, including seenic beauty, air quality, recreation, drinking water, open space and the quality of life in general, she said.

"These findings fly in the face of the 'growth at any price' attitude show by County Board member Donald Strenger of Lake Forest, president of the Forest Preserve Dist., who vetoed five large-land purehases with the support of his running mate, Deloris Axelrod. "These two have proven they are not in eoncert with the desires of Dist. 1 residents," Berliant stated. "If eleeted I will propose an aggressive open-lands purchase program to preserve what we have before it is too late."

Tales of stars-who-could-have-been are often tragic. But Dean Taggert, whose chances in the big leagues as a catcher ended abruptly with a knee injury, is an exception. "When you work really hard at something and give everything you've got, and then fail-either by accident or whatever-it's tough," he said seemingly cheerful.

After a moment of silence, though, unfocused eyes and tight mouth told another story. "I really did try hard but it was out of my control." But that was the last time Taggert let circumstances determine his future. "Those days are over," he said.

Out of a boy whose life revolved around one dream evolved a man with broader ambitions. Rather than specific achievements, his goals are aimed at "enjoying life and making my family comfortable."

Now he's establishing himself as an owner of a restaurant while running a limousine business and land partnership with his brother. The Gilmer Road House, off Midlothian and Gilmer Roads, has presented Taggert with a few obstacles already. Running it for about nine months.

Constitutional convention opposed "A provision for change already

An overwhelming majority of Illinois small-business owners oppose the call for a 1990 constitutional convention, according to a survey of the state's small business community.

A random sample of Illinois members of the National Federation of Independent Business/Illinois members indicated that 76 percent oppose the statewide referendum, which will appear on the ballot in November. Sixteen percent favored convening the conference while eight percent were

Under the current constitution, state residents must be given an opportunity every 20 years to decide if a convention should be held. "NFIB/Illinois is urging its approximately 15,000 members to be sure November," said John R. Davis, state the modifications desired by director for NFIB/Illinois. "One of the reasons NFIB/Illinois members oppose a convention is the cost. Nearly $14 million was spent on the 1970 Constitutional Convention and the cost of a new convention is estimated at $30 million. Considering the budget battles of the last two years, the statewide small business community has indicated funding should not be allocated for this issue."

Davis also refutes a contention made by those in favor of a new convention that the current document is not responsive to the needs of civic groups and grassroots organizations.

exists in the present constitution and proponents can be made through those means," he said. "Since 1970, nine constitutional amendments have been proposed by the General Assembly, five of which have been approved by the voters. The framers of our current document took great care in composing a remarkable foundation for guaranteeing basic rights and freedoms for Illinois citizens. The constitution is a dynamic document that has served the citizens well and should not be revised whenever a new issue arises."

The NFIB/Illinois is the state's largest business organization with 15,000 members.

North Point Marina in national funding study than recreational opportunities tied to zoning committee.

North Point Marina, being constructed on Lake Michigan near Winthrop Harbor in northeastern Lake County, is one of five sites nation wide in a study titled "Strategy Handbook for Recreational Small Boat Harbor Financing."

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Institute for Water Resources commissioned the investigation into funding sources. The work was done by a consulting firm from West Chester, Pennsylvania. According to the study marinas provide many benefits to an area other boating. The spin-offs are new jobs, more local revenues and aesthetics. Some projects are connected with redevelopment and/or revitalization programs. In gathering data for the study a number of Lake County people were interviewed. They include: Cranston O. Byrd, deputy director of the Lake County Department of Planning, Zoning & Environmental Quality; Warren Wood, a senior planner with the department; and Eleanor Rostron, chairman of the county planning and

Also involved in the North Point Marina research were: Brun Wesser of the Zion/Winthrop Harbor/Beach Park Chamber of Commerce; Dale Johnson, chairman of the Winthrop Harbor Planning Commission; James Richter, president of the Winthrop Harbor Business Association; Zion Mayor and State Senator Adeline Geo-Karis; and William Jansen, P.E., project director of the new marina for the State of

Due to limited fiscal resources the Corps of Engineers is no longer able to assist local governments in the plan ning, design and construction of small navigation projects which are intended primarily for recreational use. Thus the study was undertaken to seek in formation applicable to development of harbors using mostly non-federal funding sources, including com binations of private and public funds. Other marinas involved in the strategy handbook study include Port Washington, Wisconsin; Racine, Wisconsin Marina; Spud Point Marina of Sonoma County, California; and Miami Beach Marina, Florida.

Home construction plays big economic role

What do you see when you look at a new home? Do you see the fulfilment of a young family's lifelong dream? Or do you perhaps see a place where an older family can spread its wings and grow, or a retired couple can enjoy their leisure years?

What may not be so evident on the facade of it is the impact that new home construction has on the economy-and the nation's overall well-being.

"From doors to drywall and from fixtures to floors, the new home consists of thousands of components—so its construction creates riples of demand for goods and services throughout the economy," said Jack Sorenson, president of the Home Builders Assn. of Greater Chicago. "Multiply that by the more than one million new homes constructed each year and it's easy to see the immense impact housing construction has upon the economy." Sorenson continued. "Of course, concerned, it's difficult to say exactly where the ripples end. But housing's direct impact on national and local economies is measurable-and profound." Multifamily construction, too, has a large impact on the economy. The construction of 1,000 multi-family units keeps 882 workers employed for a year and creates $19 million in wages. It also? generates $7.8 million in combined symbolize even more.

federal, state and local tax revenues and $900,000 in local property taxes during the first year. Over a 20-year period, it will generate an additional $11.4 million in local property taxes, assuming a five-percent annual rise in property values.

"Of course, new homes represent the fulfillment of dreams and a safe haven for families," Sorenson said. "But they

"It will never be perfect, but after we iron out the problems, we can focus on consistency with both the food and the (flow of) customers."

Consistency is important to Taggert. "What I'm ultimately striving for is consistency...That, I think, will breed profitability."

In fact, Taggert intends to study the wants of both current and potential customers so that he can cater to them.

He plans to expand his Italain menu to include pork chop sandwiches, strip steak and prime rib. His specialties are homemade pizza patterned after Rosati's, and barbequed ribs.

The building will undergo renovations after a desired level of consistency is achieved. But that might take a while. "We're still a couple of years away from the point where the framework is at a comfortable state."

Taggert, whose in-laws work for him, is no newcomer to family-run businesses. From family-owned Arlington Country Club grew his limousine business.

"Every year, we had a golf-course ritual on St. Patrick's Day," he said. One year, the traditional party exposed Taggart to a business opportunity that he couldn't refuse.

"When we pooled our tip money (for the party), we had extra, so we rented a limo," he said. "I suggested to my father-in-law that he learn to drive one, and...now we have Taggart Transportation Services, Inc.,' with two limousines."

Gander Mountain sales up

Gander Mountain, Inc. has announced sales increases of 55 percent for the quarter and the year ended June

Net sales were $89.7 million for the year up from $57.8 million in the prior year. Income from operations was $3.1 million versus $3 million in fiscal 1987.

Net income was $1.4 million for the year, or 51 cents a share, versus $1.5 million, or 56 cents a share the prior year. there were 2,760,000 weighted average number of shares outstanding in both years.

Fourth quarter net sales were $18.7 million up from the comparable quarter's $12 million. Net loss for the quarter was $439,000, or 16 cents a share, versus last year's loss of $153,000, or 5 cents a share.

"For the year, sales increased at all operations, and operating profits were the highest in the company's history, but our performance was still disappointing because these profits did not Freitagsaid.

keep pace with our sales growth," said Ralph L. Freitag, chairman and president. "For the year, the profit performance was disappointing due to a slight erosion of gross profits, start-up costs at our two subsidiaries and the new Gander retail store, non-recurring expenses to settle a lawsuit and adopt a shareholders' rights plan, and an increase in interest expense. Profitability was further affected by the continued soft response to our spring catalog mailings," he said. "Achievements this past year -- including facilities expansion, improvements at our two subsidiaries, a program to begin rebuilding an enhanced data base, and a newlyt installed, fully digital telephone switching system - will each play a part in taking our rapidly growing company forward with the kind of customer service that we strive to offer," Mr.

Cafeteria gets touch of class

by STEVE PETERSON

Think back for a moment to your high school days.

Remember the cafeteria? At most schools, there were probably long lines. Waiting for such desired foods as canned peas may bring back bad memories.

At Warren High in Gurnee, those eafeteria nightmares are long gone. Not only is the high sehool brand new, but so is the concept of serving students by ARA Services.

"It's a marketing philosophy that has evolved over the years," John Stepnoski, regional manager for ARA's school nutritional services division, said.

When the 1,600 Warren High students walked into the cafeteria for the first time in the 1988-89 school year, a collection of colorful signs was one of the first things they saw. After helping themselves to a tray, the Blue Devils can take a short walk to the Deli Corner, Ita Pizza, Cafe Features, Options, Gritel's Bake Shop, Drinks, Grill Works or Salad Garden.

"We've tried to make the cafeteria more like a restaurant. Kids have more discretionary income than ever today and that's the market we're competing with," Stepnoski said.

Although students, with the exception of a few summer workers who caught a sneak peak at the futuristic eafeteria, have not had one of their 23 minute lunch periods, ARA unveiled its concept last week. First, at a luncheon for new Warren High staff members and then the next day at an invitation-only ribbon cutting ceremony.

ARA was the low bidder for the Warren account two years ago but did not fully begin "The Restaurant Collection" concept because the school was not completely finished.

"We're hoping they will go 'wow' and will like the changes. It's not just the physical changes but we have also upgraded our menus," Stepnoski said.

There are four eash registers in the Restaurant Collection set-up. The manner in which the collection is Family sets up fund to thank community

A year of trial and tribulation has passed for the Gary Gough family of McHenry, and they are just beginning to breathe a little easier.

Last August, Danny Gough faced death after a sudden aneurysm. This summer he completed his sophomore year of high school, due to hours of tutoring.

To thank the supportive community members, Gary and Marcie Gough have established a trust fund in the Northern Illinois Medical Center Foundation. It is for continuing education in the area of head trauma.

"We feel Danny wouldn't be where he is today if it weren't for the community and family," said Marcie. The Goughs look at the trust fund as a way of giving something back to the community that gave them so much.

"We want to make things easier for someone else," explained Marcie, as she talked about the many hours spent traveling between McHenry and Chicago before Danny was able to return home.

Danny now takes physical therapy, occupational therapy and speech therapy on a daily basis with the staff at Northern Illinois Medical Center (NIMC). Marcie spoke of Danny's therapists, saying, "Dana (Lindsey), Gordy (Husby) and Debra (McAuliff) have become family. They really care."

The physical therapy is something Danny says he doesn't want to do, but he would never think of not doing it. His therapy begins at NIMC every weekday morning and continues at home after lunch. Danny swims or exercises on his own every afternoon.

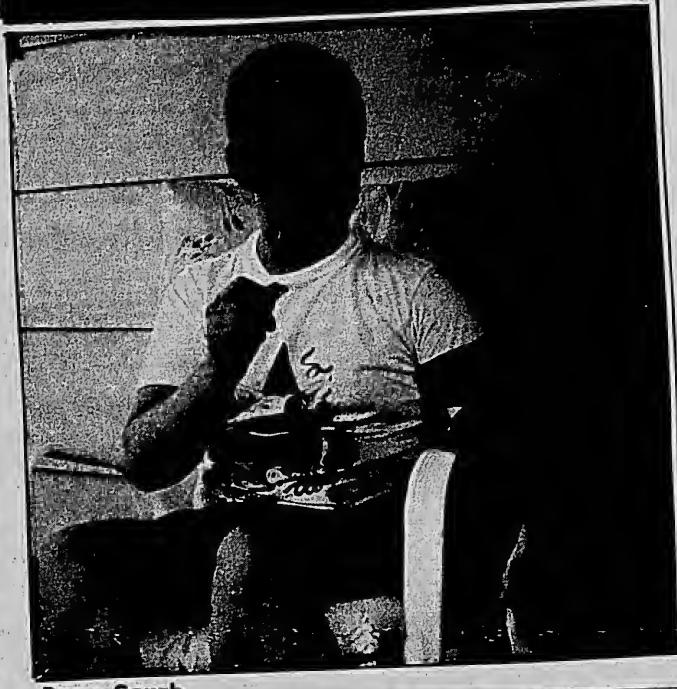

On weekends, Danny's family tries to think of ways to keep him moving, but not overstimulate him. Once his sister Pam took him up north, along the Mississippi River, and they swam together connected by a rope.

Danny also fishes. Even such things as baiting the hook and casting become a challenge when relearning many basic skills.

Fishing in his own boat was a goal that helped Danny get to the miraculous stage he is at now. Rodrigo Merino, M.D., specialist in neurology on staff at NIMC, told Marcie that Danny's age and determination are what have brought him to this point—a stage of. capability they thought he would never reach again.

Anyone interested in making a donation to the Danny Gough. Education Fund may do so by contacting the Northern Illinois Medical Center Foundation at (815)344-5000, Ext. 3288. Or write to Elaine Landis, NIMC Foundation, 4201 Medical Center Dr., McHenry, IL 60002. Funds will be used to train staff members who will work with head trauma patients.

Lakeland WEEKEND/LEISURE

11-year-old cartoonist sees life through 'Wilson'

by JOSEPH SOULAK

At 11 years of age, some boys want to be astronauts. Others want to be an actor. And a few dream about being artists.

Brian Bardzinski of Lake Villa thinks about becoming all three someday. Right now he is an artist who draws everything from airplanes to Garbage Pail Kids-fantasy characters like trolls and cartoons. He has even invented a cartoon character. His name is Wilson, a smallish, robust person with bushy hair who is "just nice", in Brian's words.

Wilson is the only character in the single-panel cartoons. In each one, Wilson makes a wry, sometimes humorous observation or comment. The idea, or message, is Brian's own. Usually it comes from something he has seen on television.

Wilson was born not of television, but baseball. One day Brian was sitting before a half-finished cartoon. He was perplexed because the little character had no name. He looked around, out the window, across the room and to the floor where his eyes came to rest on his brother, Mike's, baseball glove. Wilson was the name that caught his eye. So that is what he dubbed his cartoon character.

Brian draws a Wilson panel whenever the mood strikes. It might be while watching television, reading the Sunday comics or playing with his brother Mike, eight-and-one-half years old, or sister Sarah, six. He then goes to a child-size table with chair in the rec room, takes pencil in hand and draws. "It takes about 20 minutes," he said about the drawing with balloons above for the words. He traces the drawing in ink to make it stand out.

"I might show it to my mother or a friend who comes over," Brian said of the half-dozen Wilson panels he has drawn. He sent one to his grandmother in Northbrook, who now has it on her refrigerator. Three were sent to this newspaper with a typewritten letter from his mother: "My son asked me to write this letter to you to introduce a cartoon character he invented, called Wilson. He would like to draw this cartoon on a regular basis for publication in a newspaper."

That would make Brian somewhat famous and happy. But none of this will pizza, going swimming in the summer and playing soccer in the spring.

A good student—now at Intermediate School in Lake Villa—he pays attention in class; does his homework and still has time left over to draw something for his friends. After sharing it with them between classes or after school, he might take it home to file with his other drawings. There are other carmits.

Asked where his artistic ability came from, Brian shrugged his shoulders. "It's just natural," his mother, Barbara, says. She has no such latent talent. Neither does his father, James, an accountant with MGI Corp. in Chicago. Right now, Brian has no plans to take any drawing or art classes. But

After he is famous as an artist, maybe, Brian can go on to become an actor or an astronaut. That would be lots of fun, too, and would make him even more famous. Isn't that every young boy's dream?

toons and lots of airplanes, mostly fighters, some equipped with lasers. A few of the drawings he colors. Some are in original pencil, and a few he takes the patience to trace in ink.

In school this year he hopes to find an outlet for his creative energy by drawing something for the teacher or the class bulletin board.

Who is Wilson? He is like a fifth-grade teacher Brian had last year. He is difficult for an 11-year-old to describe, other than saying "he's nice and likes children." If anything, Wilson embodies all of the outstanding characteristics a young boy might admire in adults. Wilson is good, kind, innocent and looks at the world just as an 11year-old sees it.

Yes, he will continue to grow. With a little encouragement from almost anyone, Brian is ready and able to pen another cartoon panel. If signed by a that means one a

Corsairs ready to play as 'marked' team role

Carmel soccer Coach Tom Ragen won't have to wait long to see if his preseason conditioning program and summer soccer camp will benefit the '88 Corsairs.

Carmel opens the season with the Wheeling tournament weekend. The Corsairs return one of their top weapons of 1987 in striker Rod Bustamonte. Finding someone to play next to him is one of the coache's priorities.

"That role may be filled by two or three people," Ragen said.
The Corsairs return

three halfbacks in seniors Eric Bruksch, Chris Mikrut and Steve Gehard. Bruksch and Mikrut were honorable mention all- East Suburban Catholic Conference players while Gerhard was one of the first substitutes.

Tim Deck, a senior, returns to man the goal for Carmel. Deck gave up just 16 goals in 17 games last year and was the starter in the majority of Carmel's contests.

However, who wil be the fullbacks is a question mark Ragen and his staff are working

Northwest Suburban tennis teams to chase Johnsburg

If pitchers are ahead of hitters to start baseball seasons, then perhaps the tennis equivalent of that adage is singles players may be ahead of doubles players in pre-season workouts.

At least that is the case for the Grayslake Rams, who are preparing for the start of the Northwest Suburban Conference season Sept. 7 at Johnsburg.

"We're pretty set in singles but we're trying to work out the combinations in doubles," Grayslake Coach Paul Keller said on the eve of against Warren. Grayslake's second singles player for last year, Dawn Wismer, the season opener

returns as does Kristen Basca, who is expected to move up to second singles from third singles. Soph Denise Reidel has been tabbed for the third singles position.

"She's a good competitior. She is the kind of girl who just doesn't quit," Keller said of Wismer, 9-11 at second singles last year.

Bacsa's second doubles partner last year, Marianne Higgins, returns but the Rams lose their top doubles team of Alice Norton and Julie Tortorici. The duo claimed second place in the NWSC meet.

The Rams are coming off a third-place finish in, both the NWSC tournament and overall standings last year. The squad faces a tough assignment in the first league battle as the Skyhawks are the preseason favorite.

"We'll end somewhere in the middle," Keller said of his team's league chances.

Johnsburg was Keller's choice as the team-tobeat because of large number of returing players. Johnsburg was edged 28-24 for the league's championship by Lake Zurich last year. JHS is led by the return of top singles player Shelbi Scott, second singles player Heidi Hermann and the first doubles team of Tracy DuRei and Kathy Lane.

Lakeland FOOTBALL PREVIEW 1988

Teams reflect on successes, shortcomings before brand new '88 season begins

History teachers like to tell students of a saying that goes something like "those who do not learn from their mistakes are bound to repeat them":

Yhe football season of 1987 proved to be a good news, bad news situation. The good news: Lake Zurich, Carmel Warren and Grant all had winning seasons. The bad news: only Lake Zurich made the playoffs and Bears were eliminated by Cary-Grove in the first game.

So, as several new players will be on the rosters in the skilled positions in 1988, here is a last reminder of what took place, week-byweek, in 1987:

Week i: Warren opens the season by stopping Niles North's vaunted passing attack and romping 29-6. Grant, meanwhile, opened the season with a 28-15 win at Jacobs while Antioch upset Libertyville 22-7 and Stevenson crushed

Fenton 34-16. Week II: Mundelein wins defensive struggle against Fenton 8-0 as Rob Porcelius scored the game's lone touchdown. North Chicago evens its record at 1-1 with a strong defensive showing In a 12-3 win over Antioch. McHenry upsets Grant 19-6, a loss which eventually cost the Bulldogs a playoff spot.

Week III: Warren and North Chlcago are locked in a tense defensive struggle. Placekicker Darrin Leith's extra point provided the difference in the 7-6 Warren win. Round Lake starts the Northwest Suburban Conference race off on a bright note with a 29-6 win over Wauconda.

Week IV: Grant holds back a stubborn Waucondw effort in the battle of the Bulldogs, winning 9.0. Antioch edges Zion-Benton 13-7 as James Keim scores the go-ahead touchedown and Antioch converts a two-point try. North Chicago, playing in Its Homecoming game, shocks Stevenson 26-7 for a 2-2 record.

Week V: Antioch remains in NSC contention with 21-14 win over Mundeleln. A touchdown by Brad Naumann tied the game and then David Wick scored from two yards out with just over two minutes left for winning score. Donnell Foster runs for 250 yards as Carmel breaks threegame loss string with 30-0 win over St. Joseph. Lake Zurich retains share of NWSC lead with 28-0 whipping of Johnsburg. In a battle of league rivals, Grayslake tops Pound Lake 12-7 as Timm West connected with Shawn Mauritz for the winning touchdown pass.

Week VI: North Chicago is in the playoff picture for the first time in several years as 18-6 win over Niles North puts them two wins away from playoffs. Carmel knocks off Holy Cross 17-0 to reach .500 mark. Grant beats Johnsburg 28-6 while Lake Zurich is upset by Marengo, setting up key NWSC showdown In week seven.

Week VII: Laphanso Woods leads Round Lake to a 26-6 thrashing of Johnsburg: Lake Zurich, playing in the rain, thumped Grant 24-0. Grayslake wins fourth straight and has sights on playoffs with 19-0 home win over Marengo. Stevenson outlasts Antioch in overtime 21-14. Carmel ends 15-year jinx with 12-7 win over St. Viator for 4-3 record.

Week VIII: In a battle for pride, Wauconda notched its first win of the season with 7-6 diffhanger against Johnsburg. Foster tops 1,000 yard mark for his career at Carmel as Corsairs beat Notre Dame 27-0. Grant keeps playoff hopes alive with 28-0 shutout of Round Lake. Lake Zurich ends chances with 20-12 win at Grayslake's Homecoming. Antioch displays offensive flrepower in 32-12 romp over Fenton: Stevenson edges Warren 14-10 in game decided in final quarter.

Week IX: The finale for 1987 was highlighted by Antloch's goal-line stand which gave the Sequoits a 28-19 win and a winning season at 5-4. It was the first taste of success for the Antioch seniors, who had not experienced a winning season. Lake Zurich's offense completes 69-6 outscoring of final two regular-season foes with 24-0 win over Wauconda. Warren Derek quarterback Shelton outdeuls Eric Slowlok of Niles North as Blue Devils finish on high note with 40-30 win.

We want to play on dnesday" was the ssage.

Infortunately, a 1-3 rt kept the Corsairs completing that sion and altough mel railied in the and half of the season a 5-4 record, 4-3 in the Suburban Catholic ference. that was my fault. year we are taking gs step by step. Our Is to be 1-0 on Sept. Carmel Coach Mike libbons said.

The Corsairs, like many area schools, relied on seniors last year so a new crop of players will be grabbing the headlines. Gone are the famillar players such as all-ESOC running back Donell Foster who gained more than 1,000 yards for Carmel, Jeff Zgonina, Mike Reitz and Robb Keosar.

The kids have worked pretty hard. We're young but that can be a positive," Fitzgibbons sald.

Unlike last year at this time, when three quarterbacks were vieing for the starting job, Thad Sutter will be guiding the offense.

"He's looked real good and, he has a lot more confidence," Fitzgibbons sald of the lefty.

Steve Brock is the leading candidate at fullback. He earned high praise from Fitzgibbons, who sald the position will be used more this year.

'He is the best player l. have ever coached. He is a complete player. He blocks well, he tackles well and does it all the time," Fitzgibbons sald.

Three seniors and two juniors will lead the corps of Carmel receivers. Howard VAsey and Mike McHugh are the seniors .

along with Todd ploolo. Dave Montgomery and Don Anderson are the juniors.

Three linemen return to the trenches for Carmel in Randy Bierman, Jim Kranz and Joe Halwax at tackle, center and defensive end and guard and linebacker, respectively.

"We have some good players. We had an excellent junlor dass," Fitzglbbons said.

As far as his team's strengths are concerned, the third-year coach pointed to the "skilled positions and attitude".

The new JHS coach said he has been pleased with his team's work ethic and attitudes during the fortnight of pre-season drills. Johnsburg Is trying to forget the memory of last year's 2.7 record.

"You are winners," Farlow emphatically told the Skyhawks at the end of a practice.

Johnsburg will be led by seniors; according to the new mentor.

"The key will be the senior leadership. They used to be followers and now they are leaders," Farlow said.

Farlow reminded the seniors of the success the Northwest team experienced two years ago. Finishing 4-5, the Skyhawks generated fan interest in the team as they competed for the Suburban Conference title in midseason.

Johnsburg is led by the return of all-NWSC center Dennis Linn.

Young Grant team to gain experience

it was the last game of the regular season.

Grant faced Nowthwest Suburban Conference football rival Grayslake in a home game at Paul Lewis Field. Like the previous week, Bulldogs were starring at eilmination from playoff contention with a loss. The Bulldogs dld their job, winning a tense defensive struggle

Now it was the waiting game. Finishing at 6-3 should be good enough for a playoff bid, the Bulldogs thought. They were wrong · Lake Zurich got the nod instead.

"McHenry Is the game we want. They kept us out of the playoffs last year," Grant Coach Mlke Rogowski said of his team's second opponent. The Bulldogs have a good news, bad news situation regarding their roster. The good news is that 28 senlors dominate the list. The bad news is that only five are experienced.

Gone are the likes of last year's NWSC's most valuable player, running back Kevin Frystak and fellow all-conference teammates John Mazur, Kurt Rous. Frystak and Rous are now playing for North Central college.

"We're a very young team," Rogowski said.

That youthfulness has shown during practice sessions, according to the coach. Rogowski said he has been trying to emphasize aggressive mental performance with aggressive physical performance.

"We will be doing things a lot simplier. We won't be doing anything razzle-dazzle," Rogowski said of the early-season games which start with a home battle against Jacobs Sept. 2.

That youthfulness has also led to some wideopen battles for the starting lineup. "We have a lot of guys fighting for positions," Rogowski said.

Joe Wach, a senior, 6-2. 175, will be the team's signal caller this season. Other captains are returning letterwinners defensive end Troy Petersen and Matt Knox.

Wach prepared for his new duties as the top QB by competing in a passing league this summer in Wauconda.

Dave Essler is another senior who has experience as he was one of the team's top ground gainers for 1987.

'The attitude has been good and the kids reported in good shape," Rogowski said of preseason drllis.

The Bulldogs have had triple and double practice sessions. The coach said what they need most to prepare for the Jacobs opener is repitition.

As far as the NWSC league race is concerned, state Clas 2A champion Marian Central is expected to once again be the team that the other squads are trying to knock off.

"It will be a tough opener. He (Jacobs Coach Bill DeCicco) has been there two years now and has his system in place," Rogowski said.

And Grant fans with a little bit of memory can think back to 1986. Like this fall, the Bulldogs opened with a Friday night game against Jacobs at home. Bulldog fans would be escatic with the same finish - a conference title and a playoff berth.

Good Luck Team!

arhawks shooting for upset in opener

lear anything about Forest?", North ago football Coach me Fiedier asked the rviewer.

cw this was not the k before the Sept. 3. ner against the uts, nor even the and week of practice. ctice for the 1988 son at North Chicago ted the day before. edier's enthusiasm is ported by a taste of cess the Warhawks for the first time in rai years a fail ago. th Chicago finished at but the 'Hawks found nseives in an unfamiliar territory in midseason: tied for first place in the North Suburban Conference.

"Lake Forest is a weiicoached team and they have eight coaches to our three," Fiedler said.

Because this year's NSC schedules are flipflopped from the 1987 version, the Warhawks will have a chance to rid the memories of lastseason's 30-6 loss at the hands of the Scouts in Week 1.

Senior Jeff Patterson was handed the quarterback job jast year expected when the starters did not join the team. He worked his way into the job, and is now ready for bigger and better things, according to the second-year coach.

... "He looks like he is throwing the ball better. He's been working hard on the weights after practice," Fiedier said of Patterson.

Lemont Lindsey and Jackie Thompson both return for NOCHS, and he will be expected to generate yardage from his tailback spot.

Darren Hilson, as 6-0 center, linebacker leads a group of returnees for the offensive line.

Senior Marvin Coleman returns at tight end.

Gone are the familiar names on defense which terrorized NSC offenses: James Stovail, Thomas Newberry (all NSC) and Dameon Bradford.

They were all great athietes and that is why we were so tough on defense," Fiedier said.

·Fiedler said he has already changed one aspect in his second year.

"I have changed my philosophy of not bringing up sophomores to the varsity. We will definitely play a lot of young people," Fiedier said.

The Warhawks have a numbers problem on the varsity, though, as 21 showed up for the first practices.

Fiedier said he will start slowly this year in inputing his strategles.

"My goal is to play quality football and be 6-3. The ultimate goal is to be the conference champion and play good enough to make the state tournament," Fiedler said.

The Warhawks were searching for a punter in two weeks of practice. Coleman will be handling the kickoff chores.

Aithough the Warhawks lost several seniors to graduation, Fielder said that he does believe in "rebuilding".

"Rebuilding is con-Everybody is stant. rebuilding," Fiedier said.

North Chicago will be sporting new red and white uniforms this season. The Warhawks will be looking for four consistent quarters in games this fall. Last year, in the five losses one poor quarter or half did the Warhawks in:

"We will have good speed and we have some quickness," Fiedler said.

After graduating from lowa State, he was on the training camp roster of the Cincinati Bengals. He was cut the final cut before the season started. Then he met the same fate at Denver. He then played for the Calgary Stampeders of the Canadien Footbali League and was one of the last ones cut by the Michigan Panthers of the United States Football League.

Ali that, though, was before last year's NFL strike. Wade returned to Riverfront Stadium in Cincinnati and played wide receiver for three games for the Bengals.

'There is a fine line between those who make it and those who do not," Wade said.

Wade did not feel as though he was a "scab" or "union buster" when he played the three games.

Wade, a 1980 graduate of NCCHS, said the strike began to lose its: effectiveness when the players began to report back to camp.

Rams hoping new lights will bring winning season

Sometimes the best way to find out how you are doing is ask your peers.

"Grayslake is the darkhorse in the Northwest Suburban Conference," Grant football Coach Mike Rogowski said while surveying his own troops at a pre-season practice.

And indeed the mood is upbeat at Grayslake High these days. The school made the headlines last year with its ACT scores. Athletically, Grayslake High has completed its uprading of the track and field area and has now installed new lights. The lights were made possible by a community wide fundraising effort through the booster dub and a youth football organization.

Grayslake was 3-6 a year ago, but two of those losses included a 10-7 loss at Grant in the season finale and an overtime loss against Driscoll. Jahnke feels that if the Pams stay healthy, 3-6 could be 5-4 or 6-3.

The Rams are led by returning senior quarterback Timm West. West, who had to compete for the position last year but this fall he went into pre-season practices knowning he was top dog.

Jahnke said he was somewhat disappointed with the turnout this year with 30 players on the varsity roster.

'We have some pretty good back-up peoole. But depth could be a problem if we get all the injuries in one position," Jahnke said.

The Rams' schedule has not only been changed to accommodate the lights, but a tougher non-conference foe has been added. Weber, a Catholic school, will replace Driscoll as the second opponent. Also, the game will be played in Chicago at Hanson Stadium on Sept. 10. The day before, the sophomores will enjoy center stage as they play under the GCHS lights at 8 p.m., preceded by the freshman game at 6

"I think the kids have confidence in themselves," Jahnke said.

And in November, with a few breaks, more than the lights will be shining at Grayslake High.

Lakeland FOOTBALL PREVIEW 1988

Quarterbacks could bring Panthers back to title contention

When it comes to football, there is little doubt that quarterbacks have the lion's share of the limelight. Fairly or unfairly, they get the credit for what goes right and take the heat when things go wrong.

At Round Lake, Coach Mike Dunn feels his team is set for the future at that critical position. Not only is there a three-way battle to see who will be the top signal caller in the season opener Sept. 3 at Emwood Park, but the trying to rekindle the Panthers have a ready supply of QB's at the underdass levels just in Senior Bob Stiliweli, sophomore Mike Bragg and junior Kelth Krause are all vieing for the attention of the Round Lake coaching staff.

"Bragg is the strongest, Stillwell is the most decisive and Krause is the best overall," Round Lake Coach Mike Dunn said.

Dunn and his staff are

Lake. The Panthers won. the Northwest Suburban Conference title that year, ending Marian Central's domination for at least a few weeks. Last year, though; the Panthers slipped to a very un-Round Lake like 3-6.

"We have some real quality kids," Dunn said of the 34-player roster.

In addition to the strong quarterbacks, Dunn can point to Aaron Meeke whenever 'the Panthers need that flame of 1985 at Round critical yard or two. Meeke gained more than 600 yards last year and was named all-NWSC.

Returning to the Panthers will be Bill Thomas, Thomas, a kicker, sat out last year but will be back for his senior season. "In the past, we had had a chance to win some games because of our kicking game. Having Thomas back will be a plus," Dunn said.

The soccer style kicker has a range of 30 yards, Dunn said:

Tom Galuszka, a 5-10, 160 pounder wiii be lineing up next to Meeke at the fullback position.

Round Lake looses to graduation two leaders on the line, Joe Belcher and Buddy Estes, but that does not mean opponents' linemen should take Round Lake's line for granted.

Returning senior linemen are: Paul Willen at 6-0, 253; Thad Edwards at 6-2, 245; Larry West at 6-0, 197; Cliff Cox at 6-0, 200: Scott Kraly at 6-0, 167 and Randy Steger at 6-0, 195.

Lines key to Lake Zurich

Footbail coaches will tell you that games are won and iost in the trenches, and Wayne Kuklinski, head coach at Lake Zurich, will tell you the strength of his squad this year is in the offensive and defensive lines.

Both offensive tackles from last year are back, and they're big. Phil Pathke stands 6-6 and weighs 234 pounds, and Joe Sullivan is just a bit smaller at 6-2, 210. Both played defense last year, but this year they'll go both ways.

At offensive tackles will be Rob Squire and Joe Leineberg, both 5-11 and

A change for Lake Zurich this season will be at quarterback. Scott Krzeminski has been on the varsity roster since his sophomore year, but had played fullback. This year he will call the signals, and Kuklinski said he is making the adjustment 'very well. The thing that's going to hurt him is that he doesn't have the game experience. But athletically and size-wise he's fit for the Krzeminski is another big player. He weighs In at 190 pounds, and at 6-2 can see over the likes of Pathke and Sullivan. "It's nice to have the size but its not a definite requirement," Kuklinski said concerning quarterbacks.

Big things, too, are expected from lightning-quick tailback and flanker Les McGregor. Kuklinski noted that in track last season, McGregor was a top finisher in the 800 meters.

A possible disadvantage for Kukiinski's charges is depth. A number of players were lost due to graduating, and this year a number will play both ways. While double-duty is not unusual for teams in the conference, fatique can set in at times, Kuklinski acknowledged. "Hopefully, you can speil people when they need a break."

Some of the reserve strength will come from younger players, and although Lake Zurich has some young talent, they still need to gain some experience, Kuklinski said.

Coping with kids

by CAROL COSSITT NEW BEGINNINGS MONTESSORI SCHOOL, INC.

Cossitt is a certified Montessori Directress, having taught in a elassroom for five years. She received her teaching eredentials from the American Montessori Society in New York and also has been awarded the Chiid Development Associate Credentiai, Council for Early Childhood Professional Recognition (subsidiary of the National Assn. for the Education of Young Children, Washington, D.C.). She is a kindergarten teacher and has been a Montessori Teacher Trainer for Assistant Teachers, giving a series of Saturday workshops on the Montessori philosophy and each avenue of learning.

Q-When I look for a presenooi for my ehild, what exactly do I look for?

A-Try to observe the classroom and meet with the teacher before enrolling your child in the school. Look for a calm atmosphere, one that is orderly and offers a balance of the socialization and academics needed by children.

The teacher, too, is as much as of the environment as the physical classroom. Look for the qualities of positive attitude, respect, sense of humor, sensitivity, and a pleasing firm manner, and has control of the classroom. The child absorbs the surrounding environment, so choosing an environment with the above attributes produces a ehild with those attributes. It is the principle of "what goes in, comes out".

Q-I do not want academies pushed at my ehild, so should I teil the teacher I just want my child to piay?

A-A child comes into the classroom as a "whole" person. The child does not leave the social, emotional, physical and academic aspects of himself outside the classroom door. This whole person has tremendous creative ability and potential in all aspects of his development and should be placed in an environment where the "whole" child can be fulfilled in all the developmental stages; an environment where the child is allowed to develop independence with freedom within clearly set limits.

Q-Why do some children seem to iearn quieker than others, or have an interest in learning to read and write and others do not?

A-Children's progress tends to go in jumps, both mentally and physically. Children naturally absorb information. from the environment they are in, so it is important that the environment is prepared and conducive for interest in learning. The more the child is exposed to and observes others desiring to learn, the more he will desire it also. Often it is a matter of where the child is physically at, as the young child has an absorbent mind.

Q-I have observed that children tend to admire teachers who are firm in their discipline. Why is this so?

A-Teachers who maintain order are respected, provided they are not mean and grouchy. A teacher who can control a class without being oppressive is almost always loved by the children. One reason is that there is safety in order, and the children sense this immediately.

When the class is out of control, the children are insecure—after all, if the teacher cannot make the class behave, how can she prevent a child from hitting another child? Children feel good about having a strong teacher WHO IS FAIR.

Even young children love justice. They admire order at the preschool age. Chaos is nerve-racking, confusion sets in and is tiresome and irritating after a short while. Children love the solace of a calm atmosphere.

Q- I want to send my ehild to a preschool, but what qualities should I look for in the teacher?

A- The techer, herself, is the environment in the classroom as much as the shelves, books, objects, etc. The children will observe everything she says and does. She is a role model for the children, and the selection of this person for your child is important. I would look for a teacher with a warm, enthusiastic personality exhibiting an accepting attitude towards people.

Assurance that the teacher has a positive regard for the child as well as for herself is important, and should be flexible as well as trustworthy. Additionally, a sense of humor, a teacher who can laugh and be joyful with the children, and also has a balance of firm direction, is ideal.

Q-Should preschool age children besent to a school to aid in their social development, especially if there are no ehildren nearby?

A- A preschool experience for a child holds many benefits. Certainly the socialization skills they learn are very important and necessary. Also, children need an environment where their emotional needs can be met, as well as some indoor and outdoor physcial development.

Some schools afford indoor activity as part of their day, which consists of walking on the balance beam or doing group large motor activities earrying various objects—all of this is excellent habit-forming tools as they learn to control their body movements in various ways-some even to music.

How to speak Hawaiian like a Kamaaina

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

On my first trip to Hawaii, about all I learned is that almost all streets in Honolulu start with the letter "K" and could not be pronounced by anyone from the mainland. Well, I was wrong.

After learning a few simple rules, anyone can speak Hawaiian like a Kamaaina (a native-born Hawaiian).

Hawaiian, unlike English, is strictly phonetic. The missionairies who first wrote the language just spelled out the words exactly as they were spoken. Each letter in a word is sounded separately, even two vowels that come together. For example, the island Kahoolawe is pronounced Kah-ho-oh-lah-way. There are no silent vowels to contend with. No rules to remember such as if a vowel is "long" or "short".

There are a few vowel combinations, however, "Ai" is sounded as (eye), as in Hawaii. "Au" is (Ow) as in luau (that's where they roast the pig, etc.). "Ei" is (ay), as in "lei" (the flower necklace the pretty Hawaiian girl puts around your neck at the luau).

With those rules, and knowing the second to the last syllable gets the accent, you're on your way to speaking Hawaiian like a Kamaaina. See, you pronounced that right! If it seems like many of the Hawaiian words look alike, it's because there are only 12 letters used in the Hawaiian language. Five vowels and seven consonants can only go so far. (Wheel of Fortune would be an easy game in Hawaiian).

How about a few simple words so we can practice? A man is a kane, a woman a wahine. You might roast a puaa (pig) at a luau. When you want to thank someone, you say "mahalo"

If you ask for directions, Hawaiians will usually tell you that someplace is either makai (towards the sea) or mauka (island), rather than referring to north or south.

Get out those Hawaiian brochures your travel agent gave you and try some of those city names. You'll find it's kind of fun once you get the hang of it!

By Landmark Designs

A full-width covered front veranda, dormer windows, twin chimneys, and brick and clapboard construction give the Wilson 2 the lines of a colonial farmhouse. The interior embodies traditional separation of space, with public areas of the house on the main floor, and sleeping quarters upstairs.

A large country kitchen takes up the entire left wing between the main house and garage. It includes an island range, breakfast nook, walk-in pantry, and even its own half bath. This is virtually a second family room, the kind of place where you can linger over coffee or entertain the kids on rainy days.

The main family room next door, is the crossroads of the house, with access to the front hall, basement, main bath, and downstairs den. The stairs rise up from the front hall in the vaulted entry between the formal living and dining rooms. A curved landing gives the "sweep" of the curved staircase; however, the flights themselves are straight, making them easier to negotiate and less expensive

The master suite and second bedroom both enjoy the light and space of front dormer windows. The master suite also includes its own bath, vanity, and walk-in closet. The third bedroom and upstairs bath occupy the Lock corner of the upper story. The utilty recen is also upstairs, an untraditional location even in contemporary homes. Many homeowners ask to have their washers and driers close to the bedrooms, andother than the muscle involved in moving major appliances upstairsthere was no reason to let colonial design stand in the way of a popular revolution.

For a study plan of the Wilson 2 (228-122), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2832, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

Every week, we have a special spot in our newspaper that's exactly right for that item you want to sell, ii you lell us to run an ad for a car you no longer need, we place it in our CARS FOR SALE classification (No.80). Want to buy or sell a horse? Your ad goes in classification No. 42.

Why do we do it this way? use it's sacier for our readers (year eastemers) to find year ad. No long search, no missing your sailboat ad because it's mixed in with rum-

The next time you want to turn a no-longer needed item inio cash, give this paper a try. You'll be in the right place.

WEIL FIND WHAT YOUWANT...

This is Doug Rockenbach:

If you're having a hard time finding the exact car or truck you want, I HAVE AN OFFER FOR YOU I'll find the '88 car or truck you want (if we don't have it in stock already) GUARANTEED!!

Because if we can't we'll order a brand new 1989 model with the same equipment and I'LL GUARANTEE the same price as your '88. (See us for complete details.)

So, if you're out looking shop at Rockenbach Chevrolet. We probably HAVE the car or truck you want but, if we can't locate it for you we'll be SURE you're satisfied 'cause we'll get you an '89 FOR THE SAME PRICE!

Doug Rockenbach

or, we'll get you an '89 (OFFER EXPIRES SEPTEMBER 17, 1988) for THE SAME PRICE!!
